FASHION NOTES

All present indications let in combination with delicate chiffons is to be widely used this season. Scarfs of tulle, jet and caught about the figure of the woman in evening dress, and the enchanting air of misty guises so popular in the present silhouette.

Striped satin and silk hats are one of the recent millinery novelties. In this material the wide flaring brim, which is a late addition to the hat world, is used. It is a becoming style to the woman with pretty hair, as it discloses sufficient of the coiffure to render a finishing for the face.

The "tango" coiffure is the latest in the perfectly coiffed head. It is a decidedly simple effect, and yet at the same time a charming one. Wave hair is combed back straight from the forehead, with a slope upward, and pulled in the prevailing invisible chignon. Ears are again in a mode, sometimes the lobe exposed or merely the tip glimpsed through curls high at the side of the head. There is not any fringe across the front of the forehead, but curls drop at the sides, sometimes in clusters of three and again in one full ringlet falling low. One single ringlet always accompanies the "tango" coiffure, on each side of the face. Large plaids in three colors, and Dame Fashion is insistent that the shades be limited to this number, are being shown in the novelty woolen fabrics. The softer pastel tones are particularly modish just now in these same tri-colored effects, and made up in dresses and suits with plain dark materials.

The artistic effectiveness of the bit of black velvet at the throat keeps it still in vogue, in spite of the fact it is far from novel. Cut steel and jet as well as rhinestones combine with the black velvet in forming a striking neck and wrist ornament.

MEAT RECIPES

ONION DRESSING

Select four or five onions, pare and core them and place them in the body of the duck to give flavor. The onion is not to be served.

TRIPE ALLUMIDO

Soak tripe 10 or 15 minutes in hot water and vinegar. In a stewpan place one large tablespoon butter and two tablespoons olive oil. Cut tripe in small strips and brown in mixture. Chop a kernel of garlic fine; add a little parsley, onion, celery, one handful dry mushrooms soaked in a little water, a small piece carrot, one cup hot tomatoes, salt, pepper and a pinch of cloves. Cook all one hour and when nearly done add one handful cheese.

VEAL WITH GINGER ROOT

Buy 15 cents' worth of a cheap cut of veal, cut it in small pieces and dip each piece in flour. Fry one sliced onion, add veal and fry until brown. Then add pepper and salt and a small piece of ginger root. Cover with water and stew until done, adding water as needed. The meat will be delicious and the gravy fine.

PLAIN STEAK ROAST

Get a good plain steak, cut medium thick. Chop one large onion fine. Spread out the steak and salt, pepper and flour it good. Then put in the onions and roll it tight. Close the ends with skewers to keep the juice in. Spread grease on the outside, bake one hour and serve hot.

BEEF RIBBLES

From Leftover Meat. Chop cold roast beef and season with salt, pepper and tomato catsup or a little prepared mustard. Make some plain pastry, roll very thin and cut into pieces four inches square. In each place some of the prepared beef fold one edge of the paste over like a turnover, drop in hot lard and fry as doughnuts to a very light brown. The paste should be rolled very thin. A delicious breakfast dish.

EGGS

BUTTERED EGGS AND OYSTERS

Three eggs, 12 oysters, one tablespoon cream, one tablespoon butter, salt and pepper. Beat eggs until frothy and add the milk and seasoning. Melt butter, pour in the egg mixture, melt butter, pour in the egg mixture, stir over a slow fire, and when just beginning to thicken put in the oysters and cook to a soft, creamy mass.

CREAMED FISH

Flake fine any cold cooked fish—it makes no difference if it has been baked, boiled or fried, so long as it can be pulled into small pieces. Make a cup of white sauce by cooking together one tablespoon each of flour and butter until they bubble, pouring upon them a cup of milk and stirring until sauce is thick and smoothly blended. Put the fish with this, season to taste with pepper and salt, turn into small napkins or one large bake dish, sprinkle bread crumbs over the top, dot with bits of butter and bake ten minutes, covered. Then uncover and brown. Serve with sliced lemon.

LONE STAR SALAD

On a round plate make an eight pointed star of the following fresh vegetables cut fine and arranged separately in the order named: Green watercress, white cucumbers, red peppers, white chockery, green lettuce, white onions, red tomatoes and white celery. Put half a lemon in the center, around which place cut radishes and green peppers with the white of a hard boiled egg, chopped fine, heaped on the lemon. The tiny leaves of the lettuce can form the outside border around all. In serving, first place lettuce leaves on each plate and on them a spoon of each of the vegetables, with a little of the egg, and cover with French dressing. Put the star on ice for an hour before serving.

LAST OF THE SHOGUNS DEAD

Link Between Old and New Japan Is Served—Was De Facto Ruler.

New York, Nov. 22.—The death of Prince Keiki Tokugawa, announced in a brief cablegram from Tokyo, today, severs a connecting link between the old and new Japan. None of the contemporaries of the pre-Meiji era or the days of the Shogunate enjoyed such distinction as hedged about Prince Keiki, "the last of the Shoguns."

In these later days of the era of enlightenment in Japan it is doubtful if the average foreign visitor or even resident was aware of the unobtrusive existence of a man who, barely 50 years ago, was the de facto ruler of Japan.

He held his exalted office as Shogun for only ten months in the year 1867-8. It was at the time of his coming to power that Japan found herself subjected to pressure from without which threatened to force her to renounce her time-honored policy of entire isolation. The Tokugawa Shogunate had to yield to the foreign demand and the Kanagawa treaty was first signed with Commodore Perry with his "black ships." Up to that time the emperor of Japan was little more than a pawn in the dangerous game played between Yedo (now Tokyo) and Kyoto as the rival centers of the Japanese government.
